Description	R&D Cell has conducted a seminar for both the faculty and students on 4th Aug, 2018 at 10.00 AM in the college seminar hall. The coordinator has welcomed the gathering. The Director and Head of the Department have presented a bouquet to the Speaker. The Speaker Dr. Katakam Venkata Seetharam initiated the program for the faculty and students by telling the Ways to Avoid Plagiarism in a Research Paper: Paraphrase your content. Do not copy–paste the text verbatim from the reference paper. Use Quotations, Cite your Sources – Identify what does and does not need to be cited,

Maintain records of the sources you refer to use plagiarism checkers. To avoid plagiarism, we've to give credit whenever you: Directly quote another person's written or spoken words, Use theories, ideas, opinions, research, etc. Use historical, statistical, or scientific facts or data that are not your own. Finally, he addressed that why must you not do plagiarism? Firstly, it is unethical because it is a form of theft. By taking the ideas and words of others and pretending they are your own, you are stealing someone else's intellectual property. Secondly, it is unethical because the plagiarizer subsequently benefits from this theft.

He concluded the program by citing the consequences of Plagiarism. Plagiarism is essentially theft and fraud committed simultaneously. It is considered fraud because the writer represents the ideas as her/his own. Plagiarism is cheating, a serious form of academic dishonesty punishable by the university. Plagiarism can be illegal, and a violation of United States copyright laws. The Coordinator acknowledged the dignitaries and the session concluded on a positive note.

Description	R&D Cell has conducted a seminar for the students on 10TH April, 2019 at 10.00 AM in the college seminar hall. The Coordinator welcomed the gathering. The Speaker Dr.N.Sravanthi has initiated the program for the students by telling the importance of writing a quality Research Paper.General structure for writing an academic journal article: Title - The title of your article is one of the first indicators readers will get of your research and concepts, Keywords, Abstract, Acknowledgements, Introduction, Main Body, Conclusion, References and Citations. Steps to publish your research paper: <ul style="list-style-type: none">Step 1: Choosing a journal.Step 2: Writing your paper.Step 3: Making your submission.

Step 4: Navigating the peer review process.

Step 5: The production process.

If your paper is accepted for publication, it will then head into production.

Can anyone publish a research paper?

In theory, yes. There are no requirements that an author needs to have an academic title or education. Neither does one have to be affiliated to a university or other form or research institute.

Finally she spoke regarding publishing in Scopus?

The vast majority of researchers still believe that getting their papers published in Scopus journals is easy and does not require much effort. Such people more often than not, learn the hard way (through repeated rejections) that this is not so.

The Coordinator acknowledged the speaker and the session concluded with vote of thanks.
